Come fish in the peaceful beauty of Northern California and stay with us at Spinner Fall Lodge on beautiful Fall River

About Fall River

Fall River's reputation among fly fishermen ranks with the famed Silver Creek, Letort, Henry's Fork, Hat Creek and Nelson's. Nowhere is the opportunity for hooking large trout on dry flies any greater than on the Fall River.

Fall River is a spring creek - one of the few in California. For the most part, it is wide and slow moving.

Fall River is best known for its fine, dry fishing. Daily morning and evening hatches and profuse spinner falls makes for excellent stream fishing. The largest spinnerfall on the river occurs directly in front of Spinner Fall Lodge. Slack line, dead drift, proper striking techniques, nymph fishing, wet-tip mending tactics, proper fly selections, retrievals and the insects and their relationship to fly selection and motion are all important aspects of fishing and catching on Fall River.

Lodge Accommodations

- Accommodations limited to 16 guests
- Full bar is open until 10 pm for guest's convenience
- Continental Breakfast and dinners served daily with river lunches available for day river trips
- Horseshoe pit, comfortable patio area, Satellite TV and bar.

Fishing Seasons

April

Fishing season opens for streams late April. Excellent streamer fishing for rainbow and brown trout. Sculpin, leech, matuka patterns and small trout imitations work best. Golden Stone #10, drake and pale morning dun hatches begin the dry fly activity.

May

Peak of green drake #12, salmon fly #4, super pale morning dun hatches #16 and #18. Excellent dry fly and nymph fishing after the hatch. Also caddis, crane fly nymphs #8, mayfly nymphs #10 thru #18. Evening caddis hatch becomes very heavy.

June

Peak of dries and nymphs. Large hexagenia in full swing #8 and #6 dries are used. Also yellow stones.

July

- Hex hatch still going strong, pale morning dun hatch (3-6 hours). Heavy green cadis activity #14 thru #!8

August

Pale morning dun and cadis hatches continue. Trico hatch begins #18 thru #22. Archery season opens for deer.

September

Fall fishing breaks loose with a repeat of July hatches. Large orange cadis begins. Archery season continues thru mid-September. General deer season opens in late-September. Dove, mountain quail, sage grouse, sierra blue grouse season opens.

October

Pale morning dun hatches are excellent. Also, green drake hatch and orange cadis #8. Fall fishing is at its peak and chances for trophy trout are excellent. Mule deer, mountain and valley quail, duck and geese seasons.

November

Dry and streamer fishing are excellent. This is the best month for large Brown trout. Hatches are mid-day (10 a.m.) to 3 pm Trout season closes on the 15th of November.

11th Annual Fall River Century

Fall River Mills, Ca.

-Directions-

Getting There:

Fall River Mills is on State Route 299, 72 miles East of Redding. Travelers coming from the North should travel SR 89 South from Mt Shasta, then East on 299 about 11 miles.

Ride Location:

We'll be riding from the Inter Mountain Fairgrounds again this year, located in McArthur, about four miles East of Fall River Mills. You will have green lawns for your tents free of charge, and a very relaxed atmosphere. There are large trees and plenty of room for everybody. Don't miss out on a great time hanging out with great people!

Welcome to Wild Rice Country!

Located in a rural mountain valley, nestled between the Cascade and Sierra Nevada mountain ranges, is the Fall River Valley, home to Fall River Wild Rice, a small grower owned cooperative. The fertile soils, clean air, spring waters and crisp climate of this high mountain valley offer ideal growing conditions for the natural cultivation of this native North American grain.

Also known as the California Wild Rice Growers Association, the Cooperative was initially formed in 1986 as a means to market wild rice. Upon the realization that finished wild rice was the only way to guarantee a consistent price to the grower, the Cooperative built a processing plant at it's current location in Fall River Mills, California. Today Fall River Wild Rice is a major player in the wild rice industry. Catering to industrial, foodservice, and retail markets around the world.

Meet one of our wild rice growers, Gail Lennon. Gail is a pioneer of the wild rice growers. She's been with us from the beginning. From that First Season in 1984, through the Production Boom of 1986, the Water Shortage of the early 90's and all the way to the Power Crisis of 2001!!
